Since 1955, College Board's Advanced Placement Program (AP) has been a collaborative community of AP teachers and students, states, districts, schools, colleges, and universities committed to the daily work of developing college-level knowledge and skills. The Advanced Placement Program® (AP) enables willing and academically prepared students to pursue college-level studies while still in high school. Each AP course is modeled on a comparable introductory college course in the subject and has a culminating standardized college-level assessment or AP Exam. The following AP social science courses are included: AP Comparative Government and Politics, AP European History, AP Human Geography, AP Macroeconomics, AP Microeconomics, AP Psychology, AP United States Government and Politics, AP United States History, and AP World History: Modern. The following priorities for AP Courses have been articulated by the College Board:

- Priority 1: AP Stands for Clarity
- Priority 2: AP is an Unflinching Encounter with Evidence
- Priority 3: AP Opposes Censorship
- Priority 4: AP Opposes Indoctrination
- Priority 5: AP courses foster an open-minded approach to the histories and cultures of different peoples
- Priority 6: Every AP student who engages with evidence is listened to and respected.
- Priority 7: AP is a Choice for Parents and Students

Reviewers will evaluate the extent to which a set of materials best aligns to the the priorities by assigning one of the following ratings:

Note: In accordance with the addendum released on 6.9.2021, this rubric does not incorporate unsolicited strategies, such as social emotional learning and culturally responsive teaching. These strategies are not called for in the specifications because they are not aligned to the NGSSS Standards and, therefore, should not be evaluation criteria in reviewing instructional materials.
